

BERMUDA JUNIOR SQUASH TOUR- EVENT 1

Over 40 kids participated in the first event of the Bermuda Junior Squash Tour. An overview of the tour is available here. Kyler Knights played with creativity from the front of the court to pull off a big win over a determined Laird Simmons in the finals of the National Squad Division. Laird did not go down without a fight as he fought to intercept the ball in the middle of the court slotting in some lovely volley drops. Knights steadied the ship battling Laird's pace with consistent medium pace length. Knights leads the tour after the first event with 620 points. Laird Simmons is not far behind with 570. Nazhir Smith and Nic Barton are in the hunt with 530 points and 500 points respectively.

The Intermediate Division showcased a close match between Jacques De Verteuill and Tiye Williams. Williams is showing rapid improvement, especially in her play on the left side. She could prove to be a real threat for the Intermediate Division. Jacques' steady style of play was too much for his opponents earning him 620 points with Tiye Williams and Shamar Morris tied at 550 points each for second place.

The novice division has a 3 way tie for first place between Diego Richardson, Mackenzie Caslin and Shane White each with 570 points. Trew Morris and Kaleo Place are tied in 4th with 480 points each. It's anyone guess who will pull through with the Novice Division. Don't be surprised to see some of our keen Novice Division players working on their serves ramping up for the next event which is Saturday December 19th.

The Bermuda Junior Squash Tour is made possible by International Fitness Pros, Harrow Sports, Department of Youth, Sport & Recreation as well as the Bermuda Squash Racquets Association. Their generosity is greatly appreciated by our junior program.
